What is Mojaloop Open Source Software?

Mojaloop open source software was created to connect multiple financial institutions together into a competitive and interoperable network to help provide access to financial services with low or no fees.

Mojaloop open source software can be used to overcome barriers that have slowed the spread of digital financial services.

Mojaloop Is Open Source Software For Instant Payments Clearing

Built specifically to help Hub Operators drive financial inclusion and developed “ground up” with mobile payments enablement at its core,

1. Local ownership and optionality
2. Lower cost for low value transactions
3. Lower cost and risk for different classes of DFSPs
4. Integrated support for the local fintech community

Why Mojaloop?

By adopting Mojaloop open source software as a public good in service of financial inclusion, banks, government offices, merchants, mobile network operators, national payment providers, technology companies and other implementors can reduce the high cost and technical complexity of creating payment models that offer inclusive, affordable digital financial services for all.
